Dear Mr. Borenstein,

I am writing to you regarding your recent contract work for network cabling and installation at our Los Angeles office. As you are aware, we have decided to switch to network environment since our company have expanded recently.

Your company was tasked with providing network cable installation for the entire office. Computerish Networks was also tasked with adjusting the installation schedule to minimize disruption to the regular office operation, and yet complete the job within the time frame that was agreed on. Despite the adverse conditions, your team overcame all the obstacles before them and completed their work in outstanding fashion.

We wish to express our thanks to you and your team who contributed to the successful installation at our office. Thank you for your attitude of cooperation and professionalism. We wish you continued success in your future endeavors.

Very truly yours,

Yair Koshet
